Scenario: Inbox with Alert Selected – actions customized for alerts

Page Notes

1
 “Return to Inbox” link returns the user to the Inbox list to a point as near to where they were on the list as possible.

2
 “Previous” & “Next” buttons are greyed out if there is no message/alert to go to. The buttons do not jump from one list to another.

3
 “Delete” returns the user to the Inbox list to a point as near to where they were on the list as possible.

4
 “Block Member” currently does not message that the blocked Member will not be notified – and it should.

5
 Report Abuse needs to include a message that reminds users that they can block members.

Actions on this page need an “Acknowledged” indication or indication of system state:

- Abuse Reported
- Message/Alert Deleted
- Message Forwarded
- Message Forwarded to email
- User Blocked
- No Previous
- No Next

The wireframe shows a user interface for TeeBeeDee. At the top, there is a logo for 'TEE BEE DEE' and the tagline 'The Boomer Destination'. A user is logged in as 'SueUser!' with 3 messages and 9 alerts. A search bar is present. Navigation links include Home, My TeeBeeDee, Topics, Members, Experts, and About TeeBeeDee. Below this is a 'My TeeBeeDee' section with tabs for Profile, Messages, Friends, and Account. The 'Messages' section includes a 'Send a message To a Friend' button. The 'Alerts' section features a 'Return to Inbox' link (annotated with '1'), 'Previous' and 'Next' navigation buttons (annotated with '2'), and 'Stop Alert' and 'Delete' buttons (annotated with '3'). A sidebar on the left contains links for 'Sent Messages', 'Trash', and 'Message Settings'. A large empty rectangular area is on the right side of the page. At the bottom, there is another 'Return to Inbox' link and a set of 'Stop Alert', 'Delete', 'Previous', and 'Next' buttons.
